

Sometimes my brain gets nervous.

I sometimes squeal when that happens.

People don't like it when I squeal.

It hurts their ears and it is annoying.

If I feel like squealing I will stop and go out in the hall.

Then I will let my brain get calm.

My paras will leave me alone for 1 minute.

They will ask if I am ready to go back to work. I can say

Yes or No.

I will go back to work

I will stay in the hall a little longer.

When I go back in the room I will try not to squeal, I will try to go right to work.
